README – configs

Here you can find player configs. Most of them have been downloaded from the user profiles on the crossfire.nu website and a few others are from other websites or directly from the players themselves. I have no idea if some of the configs are really those players' configs or not, but anyway feel free to test them yourself.

DISCLAIMER

In case you download a config and it includes cheat CVARs, I take no responsibility if you get caught and are banned. Therefore it is always your own responsibility to check the config you are using and I simply don't have time to double check every config.
